ABOUT

I am an ex-axe throwing general manager who decided to holster my hatchets in order to embark on a new career in web development. I have enjoyed building reliable, attentive teams and creating a positive environment for customers to enjoy and am looking forward to combining my past experience with my new found skills in the technology world. Every day that goes by of learning, reassures me that I have made the best possible decision for my future.

TECHNICAL EXPERIENCE

NASHVILLE SOFTWARE SCHOOL
Software Developer | Feb 2021 - Aug 2021
Rigorous six-month full-stack development bootcamp

- Worked remotely with teams as well as independently
- Utilized GitHub for code control and collaboration
- Created single page applications using multiple tech stacks including HTML, CSS, Javascript and React
